management of the veteran Wilbert Robinson are being looked as a real surprise package. "Robbie" has had the experience and it will be up to him to show the Bretonians how what he knows about creating a winner.

The White Sox' rosters expect the Calumet crew to keep well up among the pennant contenders. The early recovery of Ray Shultz and Larry Chapman, the spectacular work of Bill Chase and the return in form of "Big Ed" Walsh form the basis for their calculations. Without the services of those brilliant performers it is hard to figure the Sox in the running.

With a new president, a new manager, a new captain and a new second baseman, the famous old club mechanics have become a thing of the past. Hell-o-Day has succeeded Johnny Keers as manager and Bill Swanson is expected to show the goods in more cold mugs to his second base.

A Chicago dispatcher says:

George H. Banks, superintendent of Portage lake waterways, has been advised that it has been decided to begin this year the construction of the Portage river refuge mooring piers. Advice to this effect was received from Major E. D. Peck of Duluth, United States engineer in charge of the Lake Superior and connecting waterways.

The work to be done will be the construction of half-piers, a length of 100 feet.

There is soon to be available for the harbor $75,000 of the appropriation asked for and this will be in part expended on the construction work of the piers. It is decided that there will be no dredging done this year, but to await the complete appropriation when the contractor for all of the dredging will be let.
